Description

Join Magisterra Soloists on Sunday, November 10, 2024, at Museum London for “Diversity in Music”!

Music has always been a diverse art form, enriched by its contributors from many different backgrounds. This diversity makes the genre of classical music so vast and unique.

From female composers to composers of varying ethnic backgrounds, we invite you to explore the thrilling music of Florence Price, Wynton Marsalis, Samuel Coleridge-Taylor, and more!

Joined by guest pianist Anya Alexeyev, Magisterra Soloists will perform notable compositions inspired by the unique experiences of each featured composer.
